

IRI, TI, VER, OASIS and the Diamond Khanate

08.July.2020

People have asked me periodically, over the years, especially in recent times, what is it that we are doing, meaning, myself and my team of loyal associates and comrades.

Our objective, our mission, is to change the world in a way that will improve probability for the survival and sustainability of organized civilized human life. Simple. Direct. Very challenging.

We have the best opportunity to contribute in the most significant ways to this very important objective which should, indeed, be a goal that is shared by all other intelligent rational human beings.

There are several organizations involved and working together in our mission. Along with other individuals, I belong to an organization known simply as the Guild. It has a long history that predates the crafts-oriented guilds of late medieval and early renaissance Europe. Among the projects supported by the Guild are some in which I have been and am instrumental. These are described briefly here. These introductions are simple, direct and sufficient for the level of understanding that needs to be imparted in the present dialog.

A brief description of IRI and partners - July 2020

[1] IRI (Intelligence Renaissance Industries) is a private company. TI (TETRAD Institute) is a private research organization. VER is a private company. OASIS is a joint venture involving all three of these organizations. OASIS is also referred to by other terms including TERRA and the Diamond Khanate. TERRA references a combined digital-physical environment in which people, groups, companies and other organizations interact socially and commercially. The Diamond Khanate is an organizational term that describes the way we view the world of business, capital, development, economics, finance. IRI, TI and VER work very closely in areas of research, development and commercialization of scientific and technological work, internal and in partnership with others, that leads to products and services offered to our clientele.

[2] IRI is a for-profit company. An introduction is at www.intelrenaissance.com. We are actively seeking business development in the form of marketing/sales (including contracts providing technical services as well as physical products). We are receptive to investments, which can range across several types and terms. We prefer an investor to also be an active partner and also a board member, and also a client/customer through one or more of their own organizations. Thus we welcome investors, but we are not "crowd-shopping"; indeed, we are very selective. We are interested in only the best and most qualified investor-partners. TI is a not-for-profit institution, actively seeking sponsors and supporters, and also with a preference for such relationships to be with engaged partners and clients. VER is a for-profit company and receptive to new clients for the services offered.

[3] IRI's product suite is intricately coupled. We compare it to processes and structures in Nature and in History. Some offerings are completely "in-market" now. Some originate with third-party companies we have acquired or with whom we have entered into partnership/joint-venture relations.

IRI's "core" focus is OASIS (lightly described below, here). IRI's initial emphasis presently is upon practical medical/healthcare products and services. Most of these are not limited to viral and pandemic-capable diseases, but all apply directly to COVID-19 as well as to influenza and many others, both viral and bacterial.

BioProt is very apropos, addressing needs worldwide, across all market sectors, with antimicrobial bioprotection focused upon surfaces, facilities, equipment, vehicles, instruments, even textiles and other contact-surfaces. There is also MedAtrium and Eyrie - these are mentioned at our website which you have presumably already visited. VESID is about a new and powerful antiviral medicine development - not a vaccine, and not something for progressed, severe cases. VESID is presently focused precisely on COVID-19.

OASIS is substantially more expansive, integrative and comprehensive. It is not another social chat/media product like those which we could easily supplant and replace, given what we possess, and given the tempos and moods of our times. It is not a blog site, it is not another Amazon or Alibaba, it is not like what has been in vogue for years now and spewing from "Silicone Valley" and its clone-like imitators. OASIS is what People worldwide want and need - purposive social communications and meaningful personalized intelligence. No one has been or is yet properly offering such power to them, except for now, us, IRI.

OASIS employs what we term Dynamic Reality - the intelligent integration of physical ("real-world") experiences and opportunities, with digital ("virtual, augmented") experiences. OASIS has a definite digital component; this is designed to inform people of opportunities including deals for Meeting, Trading, Protecting (security, safety, including health) and Adventuring (including travel, but also virtual-travel, and gaming). All of those offerings - the deals, the opportunities - are "real-world" but can be experienced deeply and intensively in a digital environment as well, to certain extents.

The "Trade" dimension spans many commodities, futures, shares, in classic securities investments, and also co-ownership and "time-share" options of much more than condos or vacation bungalows or "AirBnB" type places. The "Meet" dimension is where "online" and "onsite" are seamlessly, intelligently unified, like two sides of one coin. Move from one to the other, as desired, with "no muss, no fuss" and with the utmost security and peace of mind. "Protect" spans security for person and property but with major emphasis on health, as it should be a focus, for everyone. "Adventure" spans travel through the digital space of TERRA, a "4D" animated world, but also it can transform into an Adventure that is in your neighborhood, city, or on the other side of the planet.

OASIS is most definitely not another "Second Life" or such simulation/virtual/"toy" world. We have, for instance, a very real physical place that is a bar, cafe, club, and gallery, along with places for the utmost discrete, secure, private meetings. This is not for everyone, of course, but it provides part of the "digital/virtual" experience as well. Imagine, for a moment:

You are in our rich 3D environment. You enter a room. You meet certain persons. Suddenly, you are in a real-time video-enabled teleconference. The food and drinks you ordered, they are momentarily delivered to your door. And more. All this, with proven, running, and simply beautiful technologies of which we are the Masters.

We have virtual exploration and adventure trips, and while some of these are currently on hold because of COVID, the planning for upcoming physical Adventures is going on right now, since most of these do require weeks and months of advance planning and commitments by people. Introduction to OASIS is through www.oasis.tdyn.org.

I put forth to you this, in simple language:

We have taken the best parts and the most meaningful aspects of "Second Life", "Ready Player One", "Snowcrash", "REAMDE", "Neuromancer", the "Budayeen Trilogy", and quite a few other masterpieces of cyberpunk, sci-fi, and adventure literature and film, and we have made it Real and Available for Everyone and Anyone Anywhere.

[4] TI research is conducted through permanent, ongoing, open-ended research that involves a worldwide community of individuals serving as Fellows within the Institute, constituting the equivalent of a faculty of experts. The research work spans two Centers, seven Programs, and nine Projects. These are described in an introductory form through www.tdyn.org.

[5] VER, that holds extensive securities, properties, rights, and other provisions with respect to a variety of corporate holdings and particularly within the domains of metals – the exploration, discovery, mining, and processing of ores and other materials. This company operates as a unique agent and broker. It is very attractive and available to a limited set of qualified investors.

[6] As a triad of organizations we are engaged very intensively with private and public-sector groups in North America, Europe, and Asia, including China and the Central Asian states, within which we have strong and well-founded relationships. As a tetrad of organizations and the OASIS environment we form a formidable strength that is directed at the very precise and critically needed tasks of SOUL – the Survival of Organized Human Life. This is our primary task-at-hand and response-ability as human beings. Remember that.

好运对你微笑 (Good Fortune smiles upon you),

Mar'Tan

Sincerely,

Martin Joseph Dudziak
